

Paradise Cove Hotel

"The paradise within the paradise"

Next to the lovely little fishing village of Cap Malheureux in the extreme north of the island, you find the most charming, elegant and expensive real estate in Mauritius. There, the luxury hotel "Paradise Cove" is situated on 5.234m<sup>2</sup> of private land around a beautiful and secluded cove of white sand, caressed by the turquoise waters of the Indian Ocean. Renowned Mauritian architect, Maurice Giraud, designed this lovely little hotel. Many of the hotels in Mauritius are quite large, so this one comes as an unusually small and precious surprise. Those seeking their "little paradise" will be happy to find it with right there, with exotically colourful décor and the simple typical style of the island, with stone floors, polished wooden furniture and many original works of art.

The main dining room overlooks the cove and the lagoon. An international and Mauritian cuisine is being served in buffet and a la carte style. La Cocoteraie opens for lunch and dinner under the thatched roofs of pavilions built along the shoreline serving seafood, barbecue and tropical cocktails. The Cosy Corner Cocktail bar with lounge and terrace overlooking cove and swimming pool is open every day for lunch, snacks and sandwiches.

Nominated as the best little exclusive hotel in the Indian Ocean, Paradise Cove is handsomely designed in typical island fashion, with elegant accommodations in two and three storey bungalows, an ideal choice for couples, especially honeymooners, seeking a quiet, intimate and exclusive hotel. The sense of style and good taste which are expressed in the interior design benefit the hotels' ranking as a member of the exclusive Relais and Chateaux group.

Cinq Mondes Spa offers you the array of international rituals: Indian Ayurvedic massages, Chinese Taoist massages, the "Aromas and Tropical Flowers" bath, the hammam ritual, face treatments and massages and more.
